Dear Sir

I have received your letter & am very sorry to learn of your illness, but no doubt you are afflicted for some wise purpose; I expect to have the pleasure of seeing you here as soon as weather perceives will permit. The mission appears to be doing well, the friends here behave remarkably well this winter. I have not seen one intemperate this winter; the store appears to be doing well I shall send for an assortment of Groceries this week to have them on by or before the arrival of the Annals.
I have read your letter to the chiefs together with your resignation of the store I do not wish to get as an manager I think it will be best to wait some time before we appoint another I have lately received a letter from my brother in which he sent his best respects to you - Please give my compliments to all your family & believe me I am with great Respects yours &c

C. L. Cass

Respectfully
Yours

Princeton

I should like to hear from you occasionally
